SIGMA CHI OPEN NATIONAL SESSION HERE ON SATURDAY

Delegates will begin arriving on the DePauw University campus here Saturday for the Sigma Chi fraternity's ninth national Leadership Training Workshop.

Expected to attend are more than 550 college men from 127 campuses in virtually every state and four Canadian provinces, plus national officers and administrators.

For undergraduate delegates the workshop will represent an early back-to-school movement, complete with professors and classes, which will continue until Wednesday, Aug. 29.

The course of study involves development of leadership in chapter administration, training and management, with the main emphasis on functions of the undergraduate officers.

Twin highlights of Saturday evening's opening convocation will be presentation of the prized Balfour Award and an address by J. Dwight Peterson, Indianapolis, national president of Sigma Chi.

The Balfour Award is the fraternity's highest honor for an undergraduate and has been conferred annually on the outstanding member of the college chapters since its creation in 1929 by L. G. Balfour, former Sigma Chi head.

Lecture-and-discussion sessions will get underway Monday, Aug. 27, with Sunday reserved for organizational meetings and a forum on "The State of Sigma Chi."

Marvin B. Johnson, Student Union director, University of Arizona; Edwin C. Fisher, Los Angeles accountant; Donn B. Miller, Alexandria, Va., lawyer; Prof. Charles Thatcher, University of Michigan; the Rev. R. L. Ducker, Harlan, Ky.; the Rev. Richard Petty, Jacksonville, Fla.; William H. INFORMATION WANTED ON EARLY PUTNAM FAMILIES

Ethel L. McGrath, New Richland, Minn., is seeking information about her ancestors, the Adam Neff family. His wife was Elizabeth Reels, and they came originally from Putnam county. They lived here between the years 1825 and 1848 or later.

If anyone in this county knows anything about either of these families, Mrs. McGrath, Box 122, New Richland, Minn., will appreciate hearing from them.

Demos Assemble At French Lick

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (UP)—Indiana Democrats gathered here today to hear campaign oratory, scuffle among themselves perhaps over party leadership, and kick off a 1956 election campaign designed to boot out Republican office-holders next November.

The occasion was the 76th annual meeting of the Indiana Democratic Editorial Association. The highlights were a speech by Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams Saturday night, a possible Democratic State Committee vote Saturday to oust or retain state chairman Charles Skillen, and election of association officers tonight.

Fourth District chairman James L. Koons, Avilla, said it was "common knowledge" among the 22 district chairmen and vice chairmen that Ralph Tucker, the candidate for governor, wants to replace Skillen. Said Skillen:

"I'm just an old farm boy, you know, getting these jobs done as I can get them done."

He referred to dozens of campaign chores performed in a way that Tucker didn't like. But the Terre Haute Mayor raised speculation a "dump-Skillen" move had been abandoned.

"Actually, I've accomplished my purpose because these things are being done now," Tucker said.

But Koons said he felt "the situation is the same."

"If our candidate for governor wants to replace him I think he'll be replaced," said Koons. He said the said party alignments created by the four-way race for the governor nomination still existed and Tucker wants somebody as state chairman who is not involved in factionalism.

"Most chairmen and vice chairmen feel that the candidate for governor is the head of the party and what he wants they'll go along with," Koons said.

Tucker indicated he would make known his position with a statement today.

It would take a two-thirds vote of the committee to replace Skillen, elected last May to a third two-year term. Opinions differed on whether Tucker could get that many.

Williams, considered one of the nation's top "liberal" Democrats, will be flown here at state committee expense for his speech at a Saturday night banquet.

Charged With High Treason

KARLSHUE, Germany (UP)—Dr. Otto John, former chief of West Germany's counter-spy organization, was charged with high treason today.

The charges against the man who defected to the Communists and then re-defected to the West were lodged by the office for the protection of the constitution—roughly the equivalent of the American FBI.

The date for John's trial was not set. Investigation into suspicion of high treason and espionage against John was completed today. This was eight months after he returned from a 1½ year stay in the Communist Zone of Germany.

The 47-year-old John was arrested formally last Dec. 23 on "urgent suspicion" of treasonable relations with the Communist authorities in East Germany.

John, who was head of the West German political secret service, defected to East Germany in July, 1954, in a move which almost caused the overthrow of the government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

BABY'S CORPSE FOUND IN LONG ISLAND WOODS

WEINBERGER BABY ABANDONED BY KIDNAPER LAST JULY 5TH

MINEOLA, N. Y. (UP)—The decomposed body of the kidnaped Weinberger baby was found today in the Long Island woods where he was abandoned by his kidnaper July 5.

The child's almost indistinguishable remains were found under a scrub oak tree about 150 feet off the heavily traveled Northern State Parkway.

Police found an almost indistinguishable bundle. A safety pin held what appeared to be the remains of a garment. Below it was what appeared to be tiny bones.

La MINEOLA, N. Y. (UP)—The confessed kidnaper of little Peter Weinberger told police early today that he "gently" abandoned the baby alive in a heavily-wooded area of Long Island.

Police planned and intensive search of the woods after day-break.

Angelo John LaMarca, 31, a bushy-haired mechanic, made a full and complete confession that he kidnaped the one-month-old child from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weinberger at nearby Westbury, police said. LaMarca, to be arraigned later today on kidnaping charges, said he took the tiny infant because he "needed money badly."

Police said he owed nearly $2,000 for storm windows, a refrigerator and an automobile.

[They said LaMarca made one futile attempt to collect the $2,000 he asked for in his ransom note but was frightened off by crowds near the pickup point. He then abandoned the helpless child alive police said.]

LaMarca was arrested Thursday and booked late Thursday night on a kidnaping charge. He was questioned from 9:30 p. m. Thursday to 3:15 a. m. today and was led, shaken and cowering, to a cell through a confusion of popping flashbulbs and shouting newsmen.

The swarthy kidnaper, who has a pencil-thin mustache and appeared neat in his clean, green overalls, is married and the father of two young sons. He lives in a $15,000 home in a new housing development about five miles from the Weinberger home on

PREDICTS 12 DEATHS

CHICAGO (UP)—Twelve persons will be killed in Indiana traffic over Labor Day weekend, the Chicago Motor Club predicted today.

Rainstorm Hits City Late Thurs.

Greencastle was visited by .80 of an inch of rainfall late Thursday. It came without much warning and left the same way. Soon after the rain, the sun was shining and the evening was bright.

Friday morning there was considerable fog, especially before the sun came up, or about dawn, when the light seemed to dissipate the fog which covered much of this section of the county.

'Peaches' Dies, Autopsy Ordered

NEW YORK (UP)—New York City authorities ordered an autopsy performed today on the body of "Peaches" Browning who made boudoir history in the jazz-mad 20s with wealthy Edward R. (Daddy) Browning.

The four-times married Peaches died in New York Hospital Thursday at the age of 46 from a fall suffered Sunday in the bathroom of her luxurious apartment. Deputy chief inspector Edward T. Feeley ordered an investigation.

Dr. Sidney Weinberg, acting medical examiner, demanded an autopsy today and said he would perform it himself in Bellevue morgue. He was reported angry because the case and its unusual aspects were not brought to his attention soon enough.

Peaches' body, clad in a nightgown, was found by her mother, Mrs. Caroline Heenan. She was in a coma with a bump over her right ear. Mrs. Heenan telephoned

GOP IS TOLD TAX CUTS CAN BE EXPECTED

EX-GOVERNOR OF COLORADO TAKES ISSUE WITH DEMOCRATS

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Former Gov. Dan Thornton of Colorado told the Republican convention last night that "all" Americans can look forward to tax cuts during the next four years.

Thornton made the prediction in an address prepared for delivery to the Republican National Convention in which he answered charges made at the Democratic convention last week.

He said the Democrats claimed that "Republicans deny tax relief to middle and low income families."

"The truth is our people—all of our people—not just a few, have lower taxes across the board, and they're going to be lowered some more in the next four Republican years," he said.

Thornton said the Eisenhower administration in 1954 put into effect a $7,400,000,000 tax cut, 83 per cent of which went to low and middle income families. Further, he said, reductions in government spending made by the administration saved each American a total of $1,200.

The 45-year-old ex-governor said the motto of the Eisenhower administration and the Republican campaign "is and will be truth-truth-truth."

Thornton took issue with Democratic statements expressing doubt whether any labor spokesman "believes that the Republican Party is his true friend."

Thornton named three he said have commented favorably on the administration—James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians; George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, and Jacob Potofsky, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers. He quoted their statements.

To a charge that thousands of independent small merchants have gone out of business under the Republicans, Thornton replied that in 1955 the nation's net gain of new small businesses was 63,000—the highest since 1948.

And he scoffed at any suggestion that Mr. Eisenhower depends on the Democratic majority in Congress to enact his program.

"The truth is, a majority of Republicans supported President Eisenhower on 607 of 675 total roll call votes in the House and Senate during the 83rd and 84th Congresses," he said.

"A majority of Democrat congressmen opposed the President on 47 per cent of these votes."

As for charges that the administration "has followed a policy of driving farm prices down," Thornton said the opposite was true—that in the first six months of 1956 there has been an 11 per cent increase in the price of farm products.

Thornton also denied Democratic assertions that the Eisenhower administration has abandoned a bipartisan foreign policy. Actually, he said, more than 140 general meetings have been held by the secretary of state with congressional leaders of both parties. Furthermore, he said, no less than 27 special meetings between the President and secretary of state have been held with congressional groups including leaders of both parties.

GOP GETS WARNING

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall says the GOP should look on the coming campaign as "the toughest we've ever had in the history of the party."

Hall issued his warning in a speech to the 144-member committee Thursday shortly after it unanimously re-elected him as its chairman.

President Eisenhower had given his whole-hearted blessings to Hall's re-election. He passed the word when a seven-man delegation from the committee called on him in the presidential suite at the St. Francis Hotel.

Lt. Col. Arnold Talks About NATO

Lt. Col. Charles J. Arnold told the Kiwanis Club yesterday that since the organization in 1950 of military forces under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization "not a single additional square meter of European territory had fallen to Soviet conquest."

Colonel Arnold talked to Kiwanis on his return from four years duty in France. He served on the public information staff of Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe in Paris and as public information officer at Allied Forces Central Europe in Fontainebleau, France.

Under Generals Eisenhower, Ridgway and Gruenther the nations allied in NATO have built a coordinated and integrated air, land and sea defense which has stopped the steady march of Soviet imperialism in Europe, he said.

"Apparently we have been doing a pretty fair job," he added, "since it has been obvious for some time that the number one objective of Soviet foreign policy is the destruction of NATO."

Quoting General Lauris Norstad who will succeed General Alfred Gruenther as SHAPE commander in the Fall, Arnold said that "in effect the Russians have been giving us our efficiency reports. They have been giving us high marks."

Colonel Arnold, his wife, and four children have been visiting Colonel Arnold's mother, Mrs. Charles J. Arnold, in Northwood. He and his family leave next week for Washington, D. C., where the Army officer has been assigned as Technical Liaison Officer in the Office of the Chief of Ordnance, Department of the Army.

IKE AND DICK ACCEPT G. O. P. NOMINATIONS

IKE IS HUMBLE BUT CONFIDENT IN ADDRESS TO DELEGATES

CONVENTION HALL, San Francisco (UP)—Two men addressed the Republican convention Thursday night, and either had to do get a cockle-warming ovation was to mention the other.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon got the first cheers because he was first on the program. He said "Dwight D. Eisenhower" and convention Chairman Joseph W. Martin Jr. had to gavel the delegates back to order.

Later on, President Eisenhower threw his own speech out of timing by mentioning Nixon. But he didn't need Martin's help. He just lifted his hand and the Cow Palace fell silent. Not, however, until he had let the delegates cheer their mightiest for the man he had mentioned.

In accepting the nomination for the highest office in the land, Mr. Eisenhower promised to strive toward the "dream of a brave and shining new world" and declared that the Republican party "is the party of the future."

Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon came before the final session of the Republican centennial convention to accept their nominations for second terms. Republicans roared out unanimous approval of the ticket Wednesday night.

And Thursday evening, Eisenhower's appearance on the platform set off a wild 18-minute demonstration by the crowd in Cow Palace. Mrs. Eisenhower was at his side. Their son, Maj. John Eisenhower, and his wife were with them.

The President grinned, waved to the roaring crowd and raised his arms above his head in greeting.

Eisenhower's acceptance address was keyed into a first term record the GOP claims has meant peace and prosperity now and prospects of an even more glowing future.

The President said that "out of our time there can, with incessant work and with God's help, emerge a new era of good life, good will and good hope for all men."

Without hinting at the type of campaign he intends to put on, Eisenhower told the convention: "I pledge you my best efforts to bring victory to our cause next November."

The President omitted any stinging partisan barbs at the opposition line-up of Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver. He did take a few mild digs at the way Democrats have handled the farm problem and labor disputes. And he said that "their obsession with depression still blinds many of these critics to the insistent demands of today."

But in the main it was an address pitched to a high philosophical plane—one that could have served as well for an inaugural speech or a State of the Union message of Congress.

With rearing seven minute acclaim from the crowd in the nearly full auditorium, Nixon accepted his own nomination with a pledge to "carry the magnificent record of this administration to every corner of this land."

He said no one could be more highly honored than to be the running mate of a man he called "a living symbol of peace and freedom" to millions of the world's people.

He let it be known he is ready

MRS. WATSON IS ELECTED AN IBM DIRECTOR

OTHERS ELECTIONS ARE ANNOUNCED FOLLOWING
NEW YORK MEETING

NEW YORK—The Board of Directors of the International Business Machines Corporation announced after a meeting today the election of Mrs. Thomas J. Watson, Sr., as a director.

Louis H. Lamotte and Albert L. Williams were elected members of the Executive and Finance Committee by the board. H. Wisner Miller, Jr., general manager of the IBM Electric Typewriter Division, was named a vice president.

Mrs. Watson has been a director of the IBM World Trade Corporation since 1949, when that subsidiary was formed to conduct IBM business outside the U. S. Since 1914 she has traveled with her late husband to IBM offices all over the world, and is known and loved by IBM employees everywhere. Shortly before his death, Mr. Watson, Sr., stated: "She has contributed more to this company than I can tell you. I will go further and say to you in all honesty that it would have been impossible for me to build this company to where it is today without Mrs. Watson's cooperation and advice."

In February, 1951, the honorary degree of doctor of humane letters was awarded to Mrs. Watson by Syracuse University, and the same degree was given her in August, 1951, by Colorado State College. In June, 1954, Wheaton College, her alma mater, awarded her the honorary degree of master of arts.

Louis H. Lamotte has been IBM executive vice president in charge of sales and engineering since 1954. He joined IBM in 1922 as a systems serviceman and soon became a member of the sales force. He was appointed general manager of the Electric Accounting Machine Division in 1933, and four years later became IBM manager in Washington. He was elected vice president in charge of IBM government work in 1943, and in 1952 was named vice president in charge of sales. Mr. Lamotte has served as an IBM director since 1952.

Albert L. Williams is IBM executive vice president in charge of manufacturing and finance. He joined IBM in 1936 as a student sales representative, later served as senior sales representative in Baltimore and Washington. In 1942 he was elected controller, treasurer in 1947, vice president and treasurer in 1948, and in 1954 executive vice president. Mr. Williams has served on the IBM board of directors since 1951.

H. Wisner Miller, Jr., was made sales manager of the IBM Electric Typewriter Division in April, 1947. In October 1955, in recognition of the tremendous growth of the division, it was reorganized as a "completely autonomous operation with administrative structure separate from the other divisions of the company." Mr. Miller, who joined IBM in 1937 as a salesman, was named general manager.

Assert Ike Can Crack The South

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Dixie Republican leaders said today President Eisenhower's chances of cracking the "solid" Democratic South in November are brighter than in 1952 when he captured four states.

Spokesmen for the GOP delegations from the 11 "Old South" states made it clear they expect Mr. Eisenhower's popularity to pay off again this year in southern electoral votes.

Some said Republican chances in the South will be enhanced by the Democratic vice presidential candidate-Tennessee's Sen. Estes Kefauver. The Tennesseean is not popular in some southern quarters because of his liberal views, particularly on race matters.

None of the southern Republican leaders expect the GOP civil rights plank to hurt their ticket in November. The general view was that there was not enough difference in the Republican and Democratic civil rights stand to make it an issue in the southern states.

Mr. Eisenhower carried Virginia, Tennessee, Florida and Texas four years ago.

Searchers Sight Plane Wreckage

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP)—A U. S. Navy task force operating within sight of Red China's Saddle Islands today spotted empty life rafts and wreckage of a patrol plane believed shot down by Communist fighters with 16 Americans aboard.

There were no signs of survivors.

The Saddle Islands are about 50 miles from the China mainland near Shanghai and 200 miles north of the spot where the plane disappeared early Thursday after reporting it was attacked by unidentified aircraft.

Navy authorities speculated the Martin Mercator, powered by two jets and two piston engines, continued flying after it was damaged and plunged into the sea only a short distance from the jealously-guarded Communist China Coast.

The Navy sent some ships protected by F86 Sabrejets and jets from the aircraft carrier Essex almost to the mouth of strategic Hangchow Bay in search of survivors.

The wreckage was first sighted by planes from the Essex.

A U. S. destroyer arrived at the scene and said it found floating pieces of the plane and two life rafts. Officers said the life rafts were empty.

The destroyer, the Dennis J. Buskley, reported it was "effecting recovery" of the wreckage, including the life rafts, a wheel and fuel tanks.

Navy officials said the plane was on a "routine" patrol over the Formosa Straits when it disappeared. An excited voice announced by radio that the plane was under attack 160 miles north of Formosa and 32 miles off the China coast.

Then the report suddenly ceased.

Several hours later, Peiping Radio admitted that Red Chinese fighter planes "damaged" a "Chiang-shek plane" about the same time and in the same vicinity in which the U. S. aircraft disappeared.

McFarland-Roach
Wedding Thursday

The marriage of Miss Emma Jean Roach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Roach, Greencastle R. 2, and Basil Delbert McFarland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn L. McFarland, Bainbridge R. 1, was solemnized Thursday evening in the Keystone Chapel of Gubin Memorial church at 8 o'clock.

Bridal selections "Always" and "Because" were played by Miss Hilda Boatright.

The Rev. F. F. Travis read the vows of the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with palms and baskets of gladioli and lighted with two seven tier candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white waltz-length gown of chantilly lace and nylon net over satin fashioned with a stand-up collar and long sleeves coming to points over her hands and lace swirls in the full skirt. Her finger-tip veil showered from a lace and pearl cap. She carried a bouquet of pale pink gladioli outlined in satin curls of the same color.

The maid of honor, Miss Carolyn Price, wore a waltz-length gown of pale blue crystaletta with a princess waist line and matching jacket with stand-up collar and three-quarter push-up sleeves. Her bouquet was of yellow gladioli fashioned identical to the bride's bouquet.

Dale Cox was best man. Charles Roach, brother of the bride, was usher.

Mrs. Roach was attired in a pale rose dress of lace over taffeta with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue sheer dress with white accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

The couple left on a short wedding trip. For traveling the bride chose a gold and white striped sheath dress with a plain gold duster with white accessories and wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The newly married couple will reside on Greencastle R. 3.

The bride is a graduate of Greencastle high school with the class of 1954 and a graduate of Indiana Central Business College and is employed as secretary at the DePauw University library.

Mr. McFarland graduated from the Bainbridge high school with the class of 1952 and is a farmer.

Out of town guests attending were from St. Louis and Indianapolis.

Historical Society Has Dinner Meeting

The Putnam County Historical Society met at Old Trail Inn for a dinner meeting on Wednesday evening with a good attendance. Mrs. William Boatright, president, conducted the business session.

The program was presented by Raymond Grider of Indianapolis who had in his possession a "Memorandum of Jesse Blake's Store" at Blakesburg in Clinton Township at that time. Blakesburg was a mile west of Finestale and would now be in Russell township since Clinton was later divided. This book dates back to 1827, but most of the accounts were in 1831. Mr. Blake bought merchandise from Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Louisville and in 1831 from Indianapolis. The latter city was then only ten years old. An order was placed sixty days ahead of time on account of the slowness of delivery.

Mr. Blake was a shrewd businessman. He had a charge account and took notes with six per cent interest. The main item, to be sold seemed to be salt although he carried most everything except groceries. In 1830 General Jackson bought a bill of merchandise when he went through. Mr. Blake, when an old man, possibly gave the book to Thomas L. Grider when he was a small boy. Neal Grider of Indianapolis, also a son of Thomas L. Grider, presented this memorandum book to the historical society for the archives.

The society now has a steel cabinet in the DePauw Archives in East College. Much discussion was enjoyed about the old brick house belonging to Dallas Runyan west of Blakesburg cemetery where Lincoln stayed overnight when the house was three stories and used as an inn.

Putnamville Group
Has Pitch-in Dinner
The W. S. C. S. of Putnamville Methodist church met Wednesday, Aug. 22 for a pitch-in dinner at the home of Minnie and Bernice Lewis.

The day was too cool for a picnic outside so a lovely dinner was served at noon inside and enjoyed by all.

Due to absence of the president and vice president the regular meeting was not held. Members were sorry to learn one of their members, Mrs. Day, was confined to the hospital. A card was sent to her from all the members present. New programs were distributed and Lions club supper was discussed. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in visiting and group singing.

There were sixteen members and two guests present, Mrs. Woodall and Mrs. Cromwell.

The September meeting will be held at the home of Madonna McCullough with Mrs. Rogers as co-hostess.

BABY'S CORPSE

Long Island.
His wife, Domenica, was taken to headquarters Thursday night for questioning but police said she had been absolved of any part in the crime and no legal action was planned against her.

LaMarca, who police said appeared "calm and unruffled" during the questioning, told them he had picked the Weinberger home at random last July 4 when he decided a kidnap was the best way to get much-needed money. He said he wrote the kidnap note in his old-model Plymouth while parked near the Weinbergers' comfortable ranch-style home.

When Mrs. Beatrice Weinberger 32, went into the house for a moment, leaving the child in its carriage on the patio, LaMarca took the baby and sped off.

Skilled said he probably would blast the administration of Gov. Craig as well as national GOP policies.

Other speakers will be Tucker, senatorial candidate Claude Wickard, and national chairman Paul Butler, who said in Washington this week he will stay on as national committeeman from Indiana. Butler indicated earlier he would resign that job if he is kept as national chairman.

State, local and congressional candidates also will be on hand.

Muzzy Plays "Wrong Card,"
Defeats South's Contract

"Everybody pulls a wrong card now and then," said Mr. Muzzy hotly, when he thought the kibitzers were criticizing him for his play at the first trick in today's hand. Actually, they were praising him, because his play was amazingly good and resulted in defeating the contract by three tricks.

Mr. Dale opened his fourth best heart, the seven. Dummy's king won with Mr. Muzzy, intending to play the nine, carelessly dropped the jack. If he had been "careful" and played the nine, Mr. Champion could have made his contract, probably with an overtrick.

See how this works out. Mr. Champion, in order to take as many as nine tricks, must set up his clubs. Therefore Mr. Muzzy is bound to gain the lead with the ace of that suit. Now, if he has saved his jack of hearts, he will lead that card.

But Mr. Champion would merely play low and let the jack win, after which Mr. Muzzy would be out of the suit. There would be no point in Mr. Dale overtaking with the ace (his last entry) because that would set up the queen in the closed hand.

ACTUAL PLAY

As the deal was actually played Mr. Champion led the queen of diamonds from dummy at Trick 2 and finessed it. When this held, he shifted to a club, which he won with the 10. But when the king of clubs was led next, Mr. Muzzy pounced on it with the ace and returned the nine of hearts.

Mr. Champion played low and Mr. Dale overtook the 10 and ran the entire suit.

A player like Mr. Masters would have played the jack of hearts at Trick 1, too. But he would have known what he was doing. Let's follow his type of reasoning.

Mr. Dale had led the seven of hearts. Using the rule of 11 we deduct seven from 11 and get four which represents the number of hearts higher than the seven outside of Mr. Dale's hand.

Mr. Masters would have seen three of these in his own hand and dummy. Therefore, Mr. Champion would be known to have only one heart higher than

Weather Again Holds Spotlight

A mass of cooler air pushed southward from Canada over the north-central portion of the country today following tornadoes which smashed into two Illinois towns.

The cooler air covered the Great Lakes region and extended southward to Missouri and west to the Dakotas.

Weathermen said tornadoes which struck the Chicago suburbs of Tinley Park and Monee, Ill., were spawned by the cool front which also triggered heavy rains which was curb-deep in downtown Chicago streets.

At least four persons were injured by the twisters, all at Tinley Park where at least 15 homes were wrecked. Nine homes were totally destroyed while other homes were not fit for living. Red Cross disaster crews rushed to the town shortly after the tornado struck.

The other tornado struck farther south at Monee, ramming into a truck weighing station at the outskirts of the town. Heavy vehicles were spun into the air. One driver rode out the twister in his cab while his truck spun in the air 30 feet off the ground, police said. He was not hurt.

On the New Jersey Turnpike, heavy fog was blamed for two chain-reaction crashes that killed at least one person and injured about 30 others. Thirteen cars were wrecked or damaged.

the seven. If that card were the ace, it would make no difference which card was played from the East hand. But if it were "the queen, it made a lot of difference."

HOW TO GAIN

So, with nothing to lose and much to gain, Mr. Masters would have played the jack of hearts at his first chance.

"Let this be a lesson to you, Champion, not to bid those shaky no trump games when I'm on the defense," kidded Mr. Muzzy after the jack of hearts play had been explained to him. "Don't try to take any credit," snapped Mr. Champion. "You admitted at the time that you played the jack by mistake."

Across The Counter
"How about liability insurance?" I asked the new owner of an apartment building as we were transferring the fire insurance policy to him.
"Oh, I hardly think it's necessary," he said. "Do you?"
"I honestly wouldn't be without it," I replied. "It's low in cost and might be a lifesaver if you had a bad accident of some kind on the premises."
"For example, a lady in Texas was struck and seriously injured by a door swinging outward. The court ruled that the door, as constructed and used, created a dangerous condition. And the lady received a large damage award."
"Similarly, a boy playing in an alley behind an apartment building in Illinois fell against a n iron rod protruding from the rear door of the building, putting out an eye. The court ruled in favor of the boy."
"These are not isolated Hunter examples. Such accidents happen every day. You've probably heard of several large lawsuits locally over the years."
"Yes," he said. "I have at that. Go ahead and issue the right kind of liability protection."

for a hard campaign. He said the GOP can't afford to be smug or complacent because it has Mr. Eisenhower on the ticket. He said Republicans must work to put the ticket across because "Americans cannot settle for less than the best" in picking its leaders for the next four years.
He promised that as far as physical stamina will permit he will campaign across the nation to bring voters "the great message of the magnificent record" of the Eisenhower administration.

There's a better way to make your wish come true!

The "wishing well" plays its romantic part in fable and fancy... but don't count on it for results in everyday life! Best way to make wishes come true is to DO something about them. Best thing to do is to open an account here, and keep on saving consistently, persistently until the figures in your bank book add up to "what it takes." There is no substitute for saving.

CHICAGO, (UP) — Former bank President Edward A. Hintz pleaded guilty today to misapplying $461,244 in federally insured banks, and appealed for probation.

Hintz was charged with segregating state funds for the use of former State Auditor Orville E. Hodge, and his aide, Edward A. Epping.

Hodge, who pleaded guilty to embezzlement in the million-dollar phony check scandal, entered Menard State Penitentiary earlier this week to begin serving a 12-15 year sentence.
